Dorm Ass'n. To Announce Basketball Attendance Winners

On Monday, February 19, the Bryant College Dormitory Council's College Spirit Program reaches the high point of the basketball season.

Since December, the fraternities, sororities, men's and women's dormitories have been involved in this program. The fraternity, sorority, men's and women's dormitory with the greatest participation at the home games, over this period, will be the winners.

The game against SMTI was the last game involved in this program. Now, on Monday the nineteenth, the winners will be announced. At the half-time of this game, against Sacred Heart University, the presentation will take place.

These trophies represent more than one night's effort, rather a whole season. The winners will deserve a lot of credit from the student body, and the college itself.

Even though Hope High is not an adequate nor collegiate atmosphere for college games, it is the home court of our team.

The Dormitory Council expects to have a good representation from the Greeks and dormitories. Remember, this is the last home game of the 1967-1968 basketball season.

Best of luck to the Indians from the Dorm Council!

Bryant Students Participate In Internship Program

William A. Cheetham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Cheetham, of 65 Olympia Avenue, Pawtucket, Rhode Island, and Ronald B. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Byron Jones, of 14 Sherwood Road, Middletown, Rhode Island, went to Washington, D. C., during the week of February 12, under the Internship Program sponsored by The Honorable Claiborne Pell, U. S. Senator from Rhode Island. The program is designed to provide students with opportunities to work in the Washington office of the Senator and to observe and participate in the various phases of Senate Office operations.

Both Mr. Cheetham and Mr. Jones are students in the Business Administration Department at Bryant. Mr. Cheetham is a member of Tau Epsilon Fraternity and takes part in fraternity sports. Mr. Jones is a feature writer for the Archway, and is vice president of his dormitory, Scott Hall.

Dr. Sol Lebovitz, Professor of Political Science at Bryant, was in charge of arrangements for the Bryant students.

NATIONAL BROTHERHOOD WEEK TO BE OBSERVED AT BRYANT

For the first time since 1952, National Brotherhood Week will be observed at Bryant College. In the past sixteen years, only a one-night brotherhood program has been held. This year's observance will be the biggest ever held here in Bryant's one-hundred-and-five year history.

National Brotherhood Week is sponsored by the National Council of Christians and Jews. Our Brotherhood program will be sponsored by the Interfaith Council, the co-ordinating body of the three religious organizations on campus—B.C.A., Hillel, and Newman Apostolate.

The Interfaith Council, comprised of two representatives from each religious organization, a chairman, and a secretary-treasurer, has worked on this project for more than four months. A full week of events on topics of interest to all students is planned.

Everyone is urged to participate in this full week of events that are free for all students and their guests.

The Interfaith Council of Bryant College in co-operation with the snack bar will sponsor a Brotherhood Hour in the snack bar on Tuesday evening, February 20, following the forum on "Birth Control—the Moral Issues" to be held in the student activities auditorium at 7:30. The Brotherhood Hour in the snack bar is another part of the Interfaith Council's Week of Brotherhood oriented programs.

For the one hour following the Council sponsored forum, students and guests are welcome to go to the snack bar. Whatever you order, your friend will receive the same thing free. Your order can be for anything—a cup of coffee, a pizza, cake, soda, ice cream, or anything the snack bar sells. There is no limit to the amount you can order.

Remember the "BROTHERHOOD HOUR" in the snack bar, on Tuesday, February 20, following the Interfaith Council program "Birth Control—The Moral Issues."

BUY SOMETHING—YOUR FRIEND GETS THE SAME FREE.

Dr. Jacobs To Deliver Keynote Address

Sunday, February 18, 1968, will mark the opening of Brotherhood Week: 1968 here at Bryant. Dr. E. Gardner Jacobs, Bryant president, will be the guest speaker at this event which will be open only to those who have made reservations in advance.

Father James Trainor, Catholic chaplain, will deliver the invocation. Guests will be welcomed by Reverend Steven Wardwell, advisor to the Interfaith Council. Steven Lander, who served as chairman for the week's events and is Interfaith chairman, will introduce the guests and Dr. Jacobs.

The dinner will be held in the Narragansett Room in Jacobs Hall.

Religion In The Public Schools

A well-known member of our faculty, Mr. James Estey, and the advisor to the Interfaith Council, Reverend Steven Wardwell will debate on "Religion in the Public Schools," Monday, February 19, at 3:00 P.M. in the student activities auditorium.

The topic of religion in the public schools was chosen by the Council because of the recent controversy over it. Opinions expressed on the problems which some feel exist in teaching as well as practicing religion in the schools should prove very interesting.

Mr. James Estey has been a member of the Bryant faculty for three years and is a member of the social studies department. Mr. Estey is well-known to students as he has participated in several debates and forums on controversial topics.

Reverend Steven Wardwell, has served as Interfaith Council advisor this year. Minister of Education at Central Congregational Church in Providence, Reverend Wardwell is well versed in this field.

Be sure not to miss this exciting debate.

Birth Control: The Moral Issue

With the population explosion we are experiencing, and the rise in the number of unwed mothers, Tuesday evening's forum on "Birth Control — The Moral Issues" should prove interesting to ALL Bryant students. They will hear Father Raymond Collins and Mr. John LaFontaine speak on this topic at 7:30 P.M. in the student activities auditorium.

Father Collins, chaplain to Catholic students at the University of Rhode Island, has lectured quite frequently in Rhode Island, as well as in Massachusetts and Connecticut. Having taught at Our Lady of Providence Seminary, Providence College, Catholic Teachers College, and Pope John XXIII Seminary in Brighton, Massachusetts, Father Collins comes to the lecture well-recommended.

President's Message on Brotherhood Week, February 18-25

I am pleased to express my pride in the religious organizations on our campus who have banded together to present a whole week's program of interfaith activities. The leaders of these groups are to be commended for their efforts to join in this significant celebration of Brotherhood Week.

It is a matter of deep satisfaction that you have taken the initiative to involve students of all races, creeds, color and national origin to meet with each other and to hear outstanding speakers dedicated to the building of interfaith understanding.

I am sure you will each come away from these meetings with a better sense of values and the will to demonstrate your strong faith in the fundamental Brotherhood of Man. You are proving to all of us here on this campus and to all the members of the community that men "can think apart and live together". By upholding your own faith while learning as much as you can about your brother's faith, you are bound to make this world a better place.

Harold Jacobs

You Should Be There!

The Interfaith Council at Bryant College has worked for more than four months to prepare Brotherhood Week: 1968. Although this is a week to celebrate Brotherhood of Man, it is also a pilot program to determine the interest of Bryant Students in outside activities such as those being presented by the council.

As chairman of the Interfaith Council and Brotherhood Week at Bryant, I urge everyone to attend as many sessions as possible.

The most important of the week's events are the services of worship at the various religious institutions in the area who were kind enough to cooperate with the council and welcome the students and their guests to their services. Attendance at these services will help you to gain a better understanding of other religions.

I expect to see you at Brotherhood Week programs.

THE DRAFT CARD DILEMMA

By WALTER GRANT

WASHINGTON (CPS) -- Does a young man who burns his draft card engage in an act of "symbolic speech" which in no way interferes with the legitimate processes of government?

Or should his action be labeled as conduct, rather than speech, and does this conduct hinder the effective operation of the Selective Service System?

The U. S. Supreme Court heard arguments both ways this week in a highly controversial case testing the constitutional validity of a 1965 law making it unlawful for any person to knowingly destroy or mutilate his draft card. This is the first test of the law before the Supreme Court.

The case was initiated by David P. O'Brien, 21, who was convicted under the law in the Boston Federal Court in 1966. However, the Court of Appeals for the First District struck down the law as unconstitutional, but found that O'Brien was guilty of not possessing his draft card, and he was sentenced to prison anyway.

The case reached the Supreme Court on appeal from both the Justice Department and O'Brien's attorneys. The Justice Department appealed the decision that the law is unconstitutional, and, in a separate case, O'Brien appealed that it was unconstitutional for him to be sentenced for non-possession of his draft card, when he was indicted and tried for burning the card.

Marvin M. Karpatkin, an American Civil Liberties Union lawyer who argued O'Brien's case before the Supreme Court, said O'Brien burned his draft card as an act of "symbolic speech," and the 1965 law, therefore, is an abridgement of the freedom of speech guarantees of the First Amendment.

Karpatkin said previous Supreme Court decisions have asserted that free speech includes not only verbal expression, but also "appropriate types of action." Among the acts of symbolic expression protested by the high court are the right of protesters to display red flags as a symbol of opposition to the government, and the right to picket and demonstrate peacefully.

U. S. Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold conceded that some acts may be considered symbolic speech, but he argued that burning a draft card does not fall into this category. "I suppose that assaulting an official of the Selective Service System could be thought of as symbolic speech, or that refusing to report for induction could be considered symbolic speech," Griswold said.

Karpatkin told the Court that Congress passed the draft-card burning law "for the purpose of suppressing dissent," and said the law has no legislative purpose. "The destruction of a Selective Service certificate by its bearer in no way affects the economic or military capabilities of the United States," he said in his brief to the Court.

However, Griswold said Congress passed the law under its constitutional authority "to raise and support armies." The legislation is constitutionally valid, he said, because it facilitates the effective operation of the Selective Service System.

The Supreme Court Justices who questioned both Karpatkin and Griswold indicated they think the important point is whether or not a draft card has an important governmental function, other than to notify a registrant of his draft status.

Their questions indicated that if a draft card does have an important function, then it would be unconstitutional to destroy it. Justice Abe Fortas asked, "If somebody decides to protest high taxes by burning their tax records, would this be symbolic speech?" Chief Justice Earl Warren indicated he thinks draft cards have a legitimate purpose because of the way "millions of young people are floating around from place to place."

But Karpatkin said the Selective Service System has extensive records, and a draft card only "helps to identify a young person as 18 years of age in a state where you have to be 18 to buy alcoholic beverages."

In the second major point concerning O'Brien, Karpatkin argued that the Court of Appeals was wrong in finding that O'Brien could be sentenced for not possessing his draft card because "he was not charged with this offense, the prosecution never mentioned it, the jury was not instructed to consider it, and the petitioner (O'Brien) had no reason to suppose that he was on trial for it."

Griswold, on the other hand, said if O'Brien burned his draft card, "it is an inevitable consequence that he was thereafter not in possession of it."

Justice Fortas seemed to represent the sentiments of the Court when he said, "You mean there is no unfairness by charging one thing and then justifying the sentence by referring to a totally different act?"

The Supreme Court's decision on the constitutional issues probably will be handed down in about a month.

Although the high court has never before issued a ruling on the 1965 law, two U. S. Courts of Appeals have issued conflicting decisions on it. In the O'Brien case, the U. S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit said the law singles out "persons engaging in protests for special treatment," and that such legislation "strikes at the very core of what the First

Providence College Releases Student - Faculty Evaluation

—Providence, R. I.—(I.P.)—Dr. Paul van K. Thomson, Vice President for Academic Affairs at Providence College, recently announced the results of last spring's Student-Faculty Evaluation. Based on five categories, the faculty was rated as follows: Superior, .01%; Good, 48%; Satisfactory, 19%; Fair, 19%; Unsatisfactory, 13%.

(The categories: Superior, includes those members of the faculty about whom the students gave 60% or more of their evaluations in the A answer category; Good, includes those with 60% of the evaluations in the A and B answer categories; Satisfactory, includes those with 50% or more in the A and B answer categories; Fair, includes those with 30% or more in the C. and D answer categories; Unsatisfactory, includes those with 30% or more answers in the D and E categories.)

Dr. Thomson stated that each faculty member will receive a copy of the evaluation of his own work and each department chairman will receive a copy of the evaluation of the individual members of his department.

GREEK PLEDGING ACTIVITY BEGINS

Chi Gamma Iota

By Super J.

The brothers would like to extend congratulations and best wishes in the future to Nick Cerrone, Dave Marques, Ken Silvia, Ken St. Jacques, and Bruce Vittner on their graduation.

Fun and games will commence today. The brothers are looking forward to pledging.

Our illustrious brother Isms has left his trademark at another establishment and after he was done, he wiped his mouth with a cobblestone tablecloth.

Isms, they say your legs got shot out from under you again at the Lantern Lodge by Snoopy. We would like to welcome back our No. 1 soul brother, Bob Williams. Al Spiegle has taken out insurance policies on Frank Reis to cover a $100 risk (bad). Tom, the phone has been disconnected for 6 months; try somewhere else. One brother who made it big after graduation is Kenny Silvia. He is receiving his master's degree in Maintenance, with a major in cigarette-butt removal. Jean-Claude D'Uva tried to ski last week and discovered a new way of going down the slopes, on his back. Super Jew became the king of the slopes that same way. Scrooge Morris is also back in action. Charlie, Bob, and Ko, where did you go after the Teddy Bear Club — the Copacabana or Al's Cafe? A fine trophy has been received by Chi Gam from the Valley. Rumor has it that Ace D'Uva has the same IQ as Cheyenne.

Sigma Lambda Theta

Theta's interviews are over and pledging starts today! Congratulations to all the pledges on receiving their bids. Good Luck! You're going to need it!

Has everyone tried Barbara's Lemon, Vodka, Ginger, Cherry Twist? It really does something for you. Joey, what happened to your brownies? What a creative sister!!

Good luck Friday, Joyce, the sisters are ready to bail you out.

Nice going, Brothers, on a real good Mid-Week Party!

Kappa Tau

By Stu S.

PLEASE! YOUR UNDIVIDED ATTENTION

I'm sure most of you did not know that "Ricky" Sardella had poetic talents. I myself found a piece of his fine works and will now let the world know what a rare talent Mr. Sardella does have.

An Ode to Susan

I love thee, baby! for thy Own sweet sake
Those azure eyes, that faintly
Dimpled cheek
Thy tender frame, so eloquently weak
Love in the sternest heart
Might wake.

Tom Henderson and his pledge committee are working diligently on ironing out the last minute details for the 1968 pledge class.

We would like to thank James Rabb and Walter D. Lindquist for representing themselves as "LORDS OF THE MANOR" during their pre-semester festivities.

Congratulations to Phil Walker on his recent pinning to Kathy Fenger. Congratulations are in order for Greg Anderson on his recent pinning. We would like to wish the best of luck to Pete Tatarzewski and Richard Stoloff who have completed their requirements for a Bachelor of Science Degree.

KT is looking forward to another successful basketball season. Kappa Tau has captured the fraternity basketball championship for the past three out of four seasons. The team will be headed by Captain Vinny Smedes. Dave Greenblatt will watch from the bench — No "GLORY" for Davey this year.

Tau Epsilon Phi

By Al Fellner

Well, today starts pledging on the Bryant Campus and the Tau Epsilon Phi pledges are in store for a lot of excitement. Since we have obtained our national charter last November, our pledge program will consist of a four week intense pledging headed up by our pledge master, that top cat from North Providence, Tony Collela. The Brothers of TEP would like to congratulate the gentlemen who received their bids and wish them the best of luck during these next four weeks.

The basketball team is really shaping up and Coach Gene Biben has victory written all over himself and the team. Good luck in the upcoming season!

The bowling team is still going strong. Barry Zimmerman, Bob Ellems, Bruce Sheldon, and Al Cooper are giving it all they have. Keep up the good work, guys!

This past Saturday night Al Cooper had a party which was enjoyed by all of the brothers. Thanks for the use of the the apartment, Coop!

Glad to see that Steve Cowen moved down from Parks House to Gardner Hall and sorry to say that Chuck Kleiner moved up to Parks House. Bob Ellems is becoming a non-conformist, and Larry Fein really pulled a first with his psychology professor!

Again, best of luck to the pledges and remember to always keep your heads up high!!

By Robert Goudreau

Phi Sig's annual excursion to the mountain country of Vermont was successful and enjoyable once again. The area to which the band of experts travelled was Stowe, Vermont. Although fun was had by all, several of the experts incurred injuries. Out of the twenty seasoned skiers that ventured onto the slopes, fourteen were casualties.

Congratulations to the brothers who were named to the Dean's List last semester. They are as follows: Ken Crystal, Jack Renza, George Ruggerio, and Robert Goudreau.

The Phi Sig bowling team is now in first place in the fraternity league and second in the overall standings. The outstanding bowlers who have contributed to this first place record are Ken Crystal, 183; George Goodman, 167; Willis Vermilyea, 159; and Joe Curcio, 152.

Phi Sigma Nu

Plans are now being made for the upcoming annual Miss Bryant Pageant in March. President, Ken Crystal, and Vice President, Jim McNamara, are presently organizing the events which will comprise the Pageant. Phi Sig hopes that all will support the Pageant. More information concerning the Pageant will be published and announced within the next month.

Alpha Theta Chi

By Larry

PLEDGING has arrived and all the brothers wish the pledges the best of luck. They will need plenty of it with Jimmy Holl as pledgemaster and Peter Lynch as his able assistant. The pledges are sure to remember the next two weeks of fun and games for a long time to come.

During semester-break the brothers had a great time. While Andy, Tom, and Larry were soaking up the rays in Ft. Lauderdale and Paul surfed in Puerto Rico, the rest of the brothers held a number of elaborate parties. Eddy pulled his usual "D. T. exhibition" which was a real SCREAM! But the real surprise of the evening occurred when Peter appeared in his "shroud."

Tau Kappa Upsilon

By Greg

This is the week! The one in which independents receive their bids and receive a few other things once pledging begins. Rumor has it that Mike will be easy as a pledgemaster, but don't let his carefully groomed hairstyle and easygoing manner fool you. The word is out — look out for that first night.

There have been many goings on lately; it seems as though the fraternity is having their meetings at Gansett. It was rookie day with Cheeta leading the way. Too bad he can't win at cards.

Joe and Frisch seem to have found a new interest in birds. A little bird tells me that Murray may finally ask out Sue, if he can overcome his shyness.

It seems that Smitty is expecting another call while entertaining at his place. Some of us are wondering if Bill Arndt can ever entertain a girl for more than three dates.

Our basketball team looks great and with a strong nucleus of Steve, Alzie, Greg, Goose, Travis, and Randy along with some new blood BIB should be fighting for the lead come play-off time.

Beta Sigma Omicron

By "IRISH"

The sisters of Beta Sigma Omicron would like to wish the Best of Luck to sisters Pat Colvin and Judi Michalowski on their recent engagements. That's two more Beta girls to hit the dust.

Last Friday, the sisters of BSO had a surprise Bridal Shower for Eileen Vasconcellos. Eileen made out like a bandit in the gift department and I have to admit the food and drinks were a hit too.

Interviews were held last week, and the bids will be given out Friday, February 16 until 3:00.

The bowling team is back to work on the alleys again and it looks like another good show. The girls are a little rusty after the vacation, but it won't take long for the high scores to come in. Eileen must have practiced all vacation because her scores were great!

The sisters want to welcome Jan Smith back after a successful semester of student teaching. Welcome back, teach!

Congratulations, Bev!

Congratulations to our volleyball team for winning the Volleyball Championship. Peter Lynch did a great job coaching our All-Star players Andy Sundberg, Squash, Joe Goddard, Manny Alvarez, Eddy McManus, Dave Hansen, and Tom Smile.

Congratulations also go out to Bill and Lois on their recent engagement. It's one of those inevitable things. Things like that scare bachelors like Frank.

Would you believe Timmy Champion was dropped off in New Jersey at five in the morning. It's a good thing the Big "L" was nearby.

Beta Sigma Chi

By T. Pasqual

The Brothers of Beta welcome everyone back from semester break and since pledging is just a few weeks away we hope that all survived. Our social pledges are getting in shape for pledging. Neat can do one push-up now all by himself.

At the close of last semester we had a few changes in offices. Jimmy O'Connell was named President of Beta, Tom Pasqual was elected Publicity Director, and Al "Yogi" Austin was elected Ass't. Treasurer. Congratulations. Beta placed two names on the January graduates' list. Good luck to Bobby Weisner and Kevin Wentworth. Here is one more surprise, Kab is active!

Belated congratulations to Dom Curminaro and Marcia Ames on their pinning—also to Jim O'Connell and Joyce Monteiro, and to Tripp Knox and Barbara Markowitz on their engagements. Best Wishes to Bine Dias and his bride Joan Kosinski. A final congratulations is extended to Brian Alkon who has recently joined the Boy Scouts of America.

Tau Epsilon

By Jack Gular

The Brothers of Tau Epsilon would like to congratulate John and Elaine Doherty on their recent marriage and Tom Pierce on his engagement to Carol.

Last week was pledge interviews and all the pledges are now getting ready for pledging which will start tonight. Pledges "beware," because the brothers are turning into animals already and it is not even "Hell Night" yet.

We would like to wish all "Pledges" the best of luck for the next few weeks.

Mr. Bryant, which is Tau Epsilon's annual weekend, is well on its way of planning. It is going to be one of the largest weekends that we have ever presented and it should be a lot of fun for all that attend.

Basketball season is rolling around the corner and this year is looking extremely good for us again.

Paula, thank you for letting us have a party at your place last Friday night. We had a fabulous time.

Alpha Omicron

By Danny

Well, the new semester has begun and all the brothers are back. The brothers would like to wish Tom Brassil the best of luck in the future since he just graduated. We hope that the KNOWLEDGE Tom has received at Bryant will help him in his future endeavors.

Again this past semester the Accums varied considerably. Paul, I don't know how you manage to get a 3.0.

We would like to announce that Bill Doherty and his delegation will be representing Bryant College at the Model Assembly at the United Nations in New York City. Good luck to all of you.

It gives Alpha Omicron the greatest pleasure to announce that Todd Metcalf has pinned Beverly Marzullo of Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority. We would like to express all the luck and happiness for their future (another AO man bites the dust).

Pledging starts today and to our pledges the best of luck.

Till next time—Paul, when will you realize what you are doing??? Smarten up!!! Get with the program!!! Barbara—keep working on Bob. He needs to graduate.

Phi Upsilon

By Pamela

Pledging begins today! Best of Luck to all those girls attempting to show their courage and stability. The following two weeks will prove to be most rewarding, I'm sure.

Our Pledge Committee has a fine line of eventful entertainment in store for all their Pledges. Good luck, girls—you'll need it!

Welcome back, Student Teachers—I'm sure you couldn't wait to get back. We're also glad all our other sisters made it back too!

"Marjorie Morningstar" scored a tremendous 202 last week in bowling—only one point below the all-time school record. Keep up the good work, team; we're on our way to a victory.

Happy Belated Birthday to MARY and ALYCE; did you have a good time last Friday? Phyllis, I hope we'll soon be together. F. P.—no mention of you this week—sorry!

I won't go into business when I graduate because:

- ☐ a. I'd lose my individuality.
- ☐ b. It's graduate school for me.
- ☐ c. My mother wants me to be a doctor.

Can't argue with c), but before you check a) or b)—pencils up! There have been some changes. Drastic changes in the business scene. But changes in the vox populi attitude regarding business... especially on campus... just haven't kept pace.

Take the belabored point that business turns you into a jellyfish. The men who run most of the nation's successful firms didn't arrive by nepotism, by trusting an Ouija board, or by agreeing with their bosses. Along the way, a well-modulated "No" was said. And backed up with the savvy and guts today's business demands.

In short, individuality is highly prized in much of the business world—the successful much. Even when the business is big. Like Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System.

We provide communications equipment for our Bell System teammates, the Bell telephone companies. This takes a lot of thought, decisions, strong stands for our convictions, (and sometimes some mistakes... we're human, every 160,000 of us).

Individuality pays off. Not only in raises, but in personal reward as well. Like an engineer who knew deep down that there was a better way to make a certain wire connector—and did. Or a WE gal who streamlined time-consuming office procedures, and saved us some $63,000 a year.

Rewards and accolades. For saying "No." For thinking creatively and individually. For doing.

Not every hour is Fun Hour, but if you've got imagination and individuality—you've got it made. With a business like Western Electric. We'll even help you answer b) with our Tuition Refund program. Come on in and go for President!

mended. He has just completed a research paper on the "Roman Catholic Point of View" and his opinions and the questions of students should prove interesting.

The other speaker for the evening is well-known to the Bryant students and has lectured on many topics. Mr. John LaFontaine, a member of the faculty, has worked in the English Department for the three years he has been with Bryant. Mr. LaFontaine is advisor to the Masquers and has led the Interfaith Council discussion group since its inception last November.

Come and express your viewpoints!

College Suicides

Bryant College students who attend Wednesday evening's program during Brotherhood Week will have the opportunity to hear Dr. Gabriel Najera, a leader in the field of psychiatry.

On Wednesday, February 21, 1968, Dr. Najera will speak on College Suicides in the student activities auditorium at 7:30 P.M. Presently Dr. Najera is serving as clinical psychiatrist at Brown University, has his own practice in Providence, and has affiliations with the Butler and Roger Williams Hospitals. A graduate of the University of Mexico, Dr. Najera is a diplomat of the American Board of Psychiatrists, a member of the American Association of Adolescent Psychiatry, the American Psychiatry Association and almost all of the medical societies in Rhode Island. For the last ten years he has devoted time to the study and treatment of adolescents.

Come and hear the fascinating facts and stories that Dr. Najera has to tell in the care, treatment, and prevention of suicide cases.

Inter-Religious Marriages

Inter-religious marriages seems to be one of the favorite topics of Bryant students and that is why on Thursday, February 22, at 7:30 P.M. in the Student Activities Auditorium the Interfaith Council of Bryant College, as part of its brotherhood program, will sponsor a forum on Inter-religious marriages. Featured speakers will be Reverend Howard Blunt, Father Vincent Maynard, and Rabbi Nathan Rosen representing the Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish faiths respectively.

Reverend Howard Blunt, advisor to the Bryant Christian Association for 1967-68 is second assistant minister at St. Martin's Church in Providence. A graduate of the local school system, he was ordained following studies at Lehigh University and the General Theological Seminary.

Father Vincent Maynard comes to Bryant as a guest from Rhode Island College where he is serving as a Roman Catholic chaplain. He is curate at St. Clair's Church in Westerly, R. I. After studying at Our Lady of Providence and St. Bernard's in Rochester, New York, he was ordained in 1966 in Providence.

Rabbi Nathan Rosen, well known to Jewish students at Bryant, is the director of Hillel at Brown University. He also serves as chaplain to Jewish students at Bryant since the Bryant chapter of Hillel is affiliated with the Brown University Hillel. Aside from his full-time position as director, he also serves as a Rabbi for Temple Emanu-El during the High Holy days.

Every student who is thinking of marriage (isn't that everyone!) should attend this program.

Religious Institutions Open House

The church is located about 4 blocks from the school at 296 Angell Street. Services will begin at 9:30 A.M. and coffee and donuts, as well as a question-and-answer period, will follow services.

All Bryant students are urged to attend as many services as possible so they can gain a better understanding of other religions. Students do not need tickets to get in to these places of worship, nor do they need to fill out a slip. Any friends or parents are also welcome to attend.

The highlight of the full week of brotherhood programs will be open house at selected religious institutions in the area. This unique program for Bryant students and their guests is expected to arouse much interest.

On Friday evening February 23, 1968, at 8:00 P.M., Bryant Students are welcome to attend Friday Sabbath Evening Services at Temple Emanu-El, located at the corner of Morris and Sessions Street in Providence. One of the largest synagogues in New England, it is located about 1 mile from the school. Arrangements have been made so the guests can remain following services to ask any questions they have about the services or the practice of Judaism. They will also have an opportunity to tour the museum of the synagogue. If you are interested in attending services and will need a ride, you are asked to fill out the form on this page and return it to the boxes placed in the Student Union or the cafeteria.

Sunday morning, February 25, 1968, at 9:30 A.M., Catholic Mass will be held at St. Joseph's Parish on Hope Street in Providence. This church is located about a block down Hope Street from the Student Activities Building. All guests will be invited to the school of the church, adjacent to the church, for coffee and donuts. Father Hayman will be there to answer any questions.

Also on Sunday morning February 25, 1968, students will be guests at the Central Congregational Service of Worship.

Despite fiendish torture dynamic BIC Duo writes first time, every time!

BIC's rugged pair of stick pens wins again in unending war against ball-point skip, clog and smear. Despite horrible punishment by mad scientists, BIC still writes first time, every time. And no wonder. BIC's "Dynamite" Ball is the hardest metal made, encased in a solid brass nose cone. Will not skip, clog or smear no matter what devilish abuse is devised for them by sadistic students. Get the dynamic BIC Duo at your campus store now.
